Una

Una is a complex and compelling character. Now in her late twenties, she carries the emotional weight of a past encounter with Ray, a much older man, when she was only twelve years old. Her return to confront him ignites a raw and emotional exploration of power, trauma, and forgiveness.

Seeking an experienced female actor who:

- Can portray a character with emotional depth and vulnerability.
- Possesses strong stage presence and the ability to captivate an audience.
- Can navigate the complexities of the character's relationship with Ray.
- Is comfortable with mature themes and the intensity of the play.
- Age range: mid twenties to late thirties
